

CURRICULUM VITAE

January 7, 2019

Hitoshi Kiyoi, M.D., Ph.D.

Professor and Director,
Department of Hematology and Oncology, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine.
Vice-Director,
Nagoya University Hospital.

Date of Birth: November 25, 1961

Education:

1980-1986 Nagoya University School of Medicine (M.D.)
1988-1992 Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine (Ph.D.)

Research and professional experience:

1992-1994 Department of Internal Medicine, The Branch Hospital, Nagoya University School of Medicine.
1994-1995 Department of Molecular Biology, University of Ulm, Germany (a scholar from an Alexander von Humboldt foundation).
1996-1997 Department of Internal Medicine, The Branch Hospital, Nagoya University School of Medicine.
1997-1999 Department of Infectious Diseases, Nagoya University School of Medicine.
1999-2011 Associate Professor, Department of Infectious Diseases, Nagoya University School of Medicine.
2011-2014 Associate Professor, Department of Hematology and Oncology, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine.
2014- Professor and Director, Department of Hematology and Oncology, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine.
2016- Vice-Director, Nagoya University Hospital

Awards:

1997: The Uehara memorial foundation
1999: Takeda Science foundation
2000: Japan Leukemia Research Fund
2012: Kobayashi Foundation for Cancer Research
2015: The Uehara memorial foundation
2015: The Tokyo Biochemical Research foundation
2016: Friends of Leukemia Research Fund

Societies:

Japanese Society of Hematology (Executive Director, Councilor)

Japanese Society of Medical Oncology (Councilor)

Japanese Cancer Association (Councilor)

The Japanese Society of Internal Medicine (Councilor)

The Japan Society for Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation

American Society of Hematology (Member)

Japan Adult Leukemia Study Group (Secretary-General)